Uarkettes

*Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty
Watches thy soul from the Mountains of God
Over the fates of thy children departed
Far from the land where their footsteps have trod
Beacon of hope in thy ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true;
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you. — Brodie Payne*

Benediction
Dr. Charles A. Chamberlin

Recessional University Band
Eldon Janzen

Honorary Degree Commendations

Lily Peter

Miss Lily Peter's effective and selfless advocacy of cultural endeavors in Arkansas has earned for her the admiration and affection of thousands of her fellow Arkansans.

If her most significant contribution to the State could be singled out in a lifetime of dedication to cultural enrichment, it would surely be her generous action in personally sponsoring and underwriting two concerts in Little Rock by the Philadelphia Symphony in 1969 in observance of the Arkansas Territorial Sesquicentennial. She paid all of the costs of this appearance, an act of cultural philanthropy which was compared by the Philadelphia Orchestra manager with the beneficence of Count Esterhazy and other art patrons of 18th century Imperial Austria. This has been only one of her many acts of generosity, another example being her donation of scenic woodlands to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission for use as a wildlife sanctuary. For many years, she has provided musical scholarships for students of the University of Arkansas.

She was designated as the Poet Laureate of Arkansas in 1971 by the then Governor Dale Bumpers who described her as a woman who is "recognized internationally as a consummate artist of poetic expression." Her first volume of poetry, "The Green Linen of Summer" brought her a Distinguished Alumna Award from Vanderbilt University, and her second volume "The Great Riding" received the Kenneth Beaudoin Gemstone Award for the best poem of 1966-67 on the theme of The American Dream.

An accomplished musician, she has published many award winning songs and is a competent pianist and violinist. Exhibits of her sensitive and brilliant color photography have appeared at the Arkansas Arts Center, Vanderbilt University, and in the Grand Prairie Festival of Arts.

Another example of her versatility is her reputation as an outstanding lecturer on cultural subjects. She manages the complex day-to-day operations of two four thousand-acre plantations in East Arkansas.

Her enormous talent is matched only by her graciousness, her humility and her humanity.

T. M. Stinnett

A resolution adopted by the Board of the Arkansas Education Association in 1966 described Dr. T. M. Stinnett as "the most influential single individual in raising the standards and professional stature of American teachers." The dynamic national leadership of this Arkansas-born and Arkansas-trained educator more than justifies such praise of his achievements.

For ten years Dr. Stinnett served in a dual capacity as Executive Secretary of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards and as Assistant Executive Secretary for Professional Development and Welfare of the National Education Association. It was in these positions that Dr. Stinnett's leadership stimulated cooperative approaches which brought about vastly improved standards for teacher certification. In promulgating these standards, Dr. Stinnett placed strong emphasis on substantive teacher education.

Dr. Stinnett is a scholarly man who has mastered the art of translating intellectual reflection into realistic action. He is known also for his incisive wit and sense of humor.

Dr. Stinnett served for more than half a century in his educational career. He began his career as a mathematics and science teacher at the high school in Waldo, Arkansas. Midway in his career he served a two-year term as Executive Secretary of the Arkansas Education Association and a one year stint as Executive Assistant to the President of the University of Arkansas. In 1948, he left Arkansas to start his 18-year career with the National Education Association. Following his retirement from the NEA in 1966, Dr. Stinnett joined the faculty at Texas A&M University as a visiting professor of educational administration, a post he held for five years.

Dr. Stinnett has been given the Distinguished Alumni Award from Henderson State University and an honorary degree by Rhode Island College. Distinguished service plaques have been awarded to him by at least seven organizations of nationwide stature.

Dale Bumpers

The Honorable Dale Bumpers is the recently elected United States Senator from Arkansas who previously served with distinction as governor of the State. In two terms as governor he strengthened the State's financial structure, exerted strong influence on the improvement of education and other State services, and championed the preservation of Arkansas' scenic environment. During his tenure, he served as chairman of the National Democratic Governors' Caucus, Chairman of the Southern Growth Policy Board, as a member of the Executive Committee of the National Governors' Conference, a member of the National Democratic Advisory Council of Elected Officials, and a member of the Democratic National Committee and its Executive Committee.

Senator Bumpers continues a tradition of articulate leadership which has symbolized the prominence of Arkansas members of Congress in governmental affairs. He is alert and incisive in his mental energies and persuasive in his economic and social concepts.

Sworn in as a member of the 94th Congress on January 14, 1975, Senator Bumpers has been assigned to the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and the Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences. He also serves as a member of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, the Legislative Review Committee, and the Democratic Policy Committee.

In defeating three widely recognized and popular candidates in his gubernatorial and senatorial races, Senator Bumpers enjoys the broadly based support of the Arkansas electorate.

Senator Bumpers is a native of Charleston, Arkansas. He attended the University of Arkansas as an undergraduate student and received his law degree from the Northwestern University Law School. Returning to Charleston, he carried on successful and simultaneous careers as an attorney, a rancher and a retail businessman. He served as a member of the Charleston School Board and as City Attorney before launching his meteoric state and national political career.

In his able representation of Arkansas in the chambers of the Senate, Dale Bumpers reflects great credit on his native State.

J. Smith Henley

Edmund Burke once wrote that he tried to do those things in life that "humanity, reason, and justice tell me I ought to do."

One of the men who has lived by such a creed is J. Smith Henley, the distinguished jurist who recently was appointed to the United States Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals and became the third Arkansan in this century to be so honored.

Judge Henley, who has served the past 16 years as United States District Judge for the Eastern and Western districts of Arkansas, is a man who passionately believes in justice that is consistently based on reason. He is widely known also as a jurist who has a keen awareness and perceptive understanding of human motivation and conduct. For this reason, he will temper his justice with mercy in those human situations where mercy seems appropriate.

Judge Henley takes an independent and non-doctrinaire approach to his judicial decisions. His conceptual attitudes reflect the rugged individualism of the North Arkansas hill country in which he was born and reared. He is particularly recognized for his open-minded and rational interpretations of the law, even when these interpretations are at variance with his personal convictions.

He graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Law in 1941 when he won Senior Class Honors for scholarship. He later spent 13 years in private practice at Harrison, and served for four years in non-judicial positions for the federal government. In 1958, he was named a recess appointee as judge of the Eastern District of Arkansas, and was appointed the following year as district judge for the Eastern and Western districts of Arkansas. He sat by designation on the Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit for short periods in 1962, 1965 and 1971. Additionally, he sat as United States District Judge for cases in El Paso, Texas; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Pensacola, Florida; and Atlanta, Georgia.

Robert P. Taylor

Dedicated service to his fellow man and exemplary loyalty to his State and its institutions — these are the hallmarks of the career of Robert P. Taylor.

A prominent Little Rock business and financial leader, Mr. Taylor has long taken an active leadership role in building alumni support for the University of Arkansas and its programs. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the University of Arkansas Foundation, secretary of the War Memorial Stadium Commission, a former member of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association, and former national president for the Association.

Mr. Taylor is President and Chief Executive Officer of Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Inc. Some of his other strong and effective contributions to the economic and financial development of Arkansas include his services as director and former senior vice president of Worthen Bank and Trust Company, as a partner in the general agency of Aetna Insurance Company in Little Rock, and as a member of the Board of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce.

His services to Arkansas educational, service and charitable organizations are extensive and reflect his humanitarian concerns for the people of his State. Some of his past activities include his service as a Board member for Arkansas Children's Hospital, as a member of the Quapaw Council Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts of America, and as a member of the Administrative Board and of the Commission on Stewardship and Finance for the First United Methodist Church in Little Rock.

Mr. Taylor holds an Outstanding Alumnus Award from Little Rock Junior College which later became the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Arkansas.
